

ASEE 2017-18 MEDIA KIT

welcome

The American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) is THE professional membership association for U.S. engineering colleges, educators and administrators. Ninety percent of all accredited U.S. engineering colleges are ASEE members.

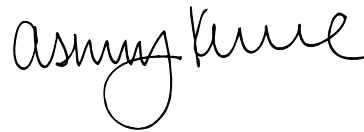

ASEE has a prominent voice and expansive network throughout higher education and Pre-K12 STEM. ASEE's publications are used as guides and outlets for engineering and engineering technology professors, administrators, and students to connect, collaborate, and share.

ASEE's network of institutions, corporations and individuals is vital for developing a presence within U.S. engineering academia. Each year, hundreds of innovative corporate, government, non-profit, and educational organizations depend on ASEE to get their message out to the engineering education community.

In 2018, ASEE will be celebrating "125 Years at the Heart of Engineering Education," our 125th anniversary. During the year, we will be celebrating our past achievements and looking to the future of engineering education focusing on the next big discoveries. Join us in celebrating 125 years of collaboration, excellence, and innovation through our publications, including a special edition of Prism Magazine, and all ASEE events throughout the year.

I encourage you to explore the many opportunities described in this media kit to make ASEE digital and print publications part of your organization's marketing mix. Please feel free to contact me by phone or email (see below) with any questions.

Best regards,

ABOUT ASEE

The American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) is the largest, most prestigious professional society for engineering and engineering technology educators and administrators from the US and around the world. Founded in 1893, ASEE is a nonprofit organization of individuals and institutions committed to furthering education in engineering and engineering technology. It accomplishes this mission by:

- promoting excellence in instruction, research, public service, and practice
- fostering the technological education of society
- providing quality products and services to its members

In pursuit of academic excellence, ASEE develops policies and programs that enhance professional opportunities for engineering faculty members, and promotes activities that support increased student enrollment in engineering and engineering technology colleges and universities. Strong communication and collaboration with national and international organizations further advances ASEE's mission.

ASEE also fulfills its mission by providing a valuable communication link among corporations, government agencies, and educational institutions. ASEE's 12,000 members include deans, department heads, faculty members, students, and government and industry representatives who hail from all disciplines of engineering and engineering technology. ASEE's organizational membership is composed of 400 engineering and engineering technology colleges and affiliates, approximately 70 corporations, and numerous government agencies and professional associations. ASEE promotes open exchanges among all these groups.

ASEE has three categories of membership: individual, institutional, and organizational (corporate, governmental, non-profit, etc.)
