Student

Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio de Janeiro and Ecole des Mines

Biography

Andrej Bulat is a double degree Master student in Eco-Engineering, Management & Policy of both Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio de Janeiro and presently at Ecole des Mines de Nancy. During his B.Sc. at PUC-Rio he has studied Petroleum Engineering and Experimental Physics. He has been an intern during 1 year in the Venture Management Team in the Exploration & Production sector at Royal Dutch Shell (Rio office). In October 2006, at Rio de Janeiro's GCEE, he co-founded a worldwide student initiative aspiring to inter-connect all stakeholders in engineering education, and which he is currently co-shaping. Also he is an active member of BEST (Board of European Students of Technology). His interests include development of viable initiatives, centered on energetic and environmental optimization of all infrastructural systems, which lead to sustainability. Ultimately he promotes effectively the bridging of the science schism and nurtures reunion with nature.
