The purpose of DEED is to share knowledge, learning and best-practice experience that improves the quality of engineering design education skills within our community. This division strives to be relevant and inclusive to both instructors in engineering design and engineering educational research practitioners.

DEED seeks contributions on topics that include, but are not limited to, capstone design, innovation in design education, design instruction and pedagogy, teams and teamwork in design education, design for community, interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary design, use of technology to enhance design education, sustainable design, design for “X”, assessment of design activities, design realization, and design methodology.

Authors are encouraged to submit work that could be useful to other design educators and to suggest strategies for transferability and/or implementation. Proposals for new session topics and new session formats are also encouraged.

Please review to the ASEE DEED Paper Guidelines for DEED-specific details related to manuscript submissions. The ASEE DEED Paper Guidelines will be used as a basis for all manuscript reviews. The ASEE DEED Paper Guidelines can be found on the DEED website at <http://deed.asee.org/index.php/conference-info/>.

Podium, Postcard, and Poster Sessions

DEED accepts both completed research efforts and those that are a work in progress for inclusion as peer-reviewed papers in the annual conference. “Work in Progress” is a mechanism/forum for authors to share and receive feedback on preliminary work. “Work in Progress” submissions are identified both through Monolith and through their title, are included in the conference proceedings, and are typically presented in the DEED poster or postcard sessions. Accepted final papers will be published in the proceedings and presented in one of three different types of sessions: Podium sessions, Postcard sessions, and Poster sessions. Each are described briefly below:

1) Podium Sessions are traditional research talks and will occur during division technical sessions. The podium talk format gives authors of papers an opportunity to provide a detailed overview of a research project or curricular innovation. Approximately six papers will be grouped thematically in technical sessions lasting 90 minutes giving about 10 minutes for presentation and 5 minutes for Q&A.

2) Postcard Sessions are a novel session type to report important innovations and current research efforts. The postcard format gives authors of papers the opportunity to pitch their work with a two-slide (postcard back and front) overview of their work in five minutes or less. After the pitch is made, attendees will have the opportunity to talk with the authors and their postcards while authors receive project feedback from interested viewers.

3) Poster Session will occur over lunch during the divisions poster session in the convention hall. The poster session format gives authors a large format venue to present research and course innovations in a public setting. Authors are expected to stand near their poster for the entire session to engage with poster session attendees.

All DEED papers will be placed in either a podium session or a postcard poster session by default with preference to the podium session slots being given to full papers and preference for postcard poster session slots begin given to Work-in-Progress papers. Authors may optionally select to present in the Poster Session by contacting the Program Chair and requesting placement in a Poster Session. Any accepted paper may be assigned to either a Podium or Postcard Session (even when the paper is not a “Work in Progress”).

In addition to the ASEE “Publish to Present” requirements, DEED requires the support of its authors in “Review to Publish” at both the abstract and manuscript stages. Abstracts for review will be assigned October 18 and are due no later than October 29. Blind manuscript reviews will be assigned February 9 and are due no later than February 28.

Panel (and other Special) Sessions

Panel (and other special) sessions may be proposed in the areas listed for paper submissions. These sessions differ from organized sessions in that they are not publish to present; however, an individual abstract for the panel session is required. Persons wishing to organize a DEED panel session should (1) contact via email the Program Chair to describe their intent to submit a panel session proposal and (2) submit a paper abstract in Monolith providing the following: description of the topic of the panel, format for the panel session, and proposed panelists. DEED officers and directors will review the submissions for appropriate content. To be considered, proposals must be submitted before paper abstract submission deadline (October 16, 2017).

Workshops

DEED sanctions workshops in the areas listed for paper submissions. Persons wishing to have DEED promote a workshop for the 2018 Annual Conference should (1) contact via email the Program Chair to describe their intent to submit a workshop session proposal and (2) submit a paper abstract in Monolith providing the following: workshop title, objective, description, speakers/facilitators, estimated head count, and whether or not this workshop was similar to a prior ASEE workshop including the name of the prior workshop as this is the information required by the online form in Monolith. DEED officers and directors will review workshop submissions for appropriate content, and will recommend workshops to ASEE. Workshops submitted directly on the ASEE site, prior to DEED approval, will not be recommended to conference organizers for inclusion. To be considered, proposals must be submitted before paper abstract submission deadline (October 16, 2017).

For information about any submission, see the ASEE website: <http://www.asee.org>. □
