ECE Division Call for Papers – 2018 ASEE Annual Conference in Salt Lake City

The 2018 ASEE Annual Conference and Exposition will be held in Salt Lake City, Utah, June 24-27, 2018. Please consider submitting a 200-400 word abstract for this conference before the October 16, 2017 due date. Acceptable topics include your ECE educational research, your classroom practice, your curriculum design, your laboratory development, or any other appropriate ECE related engineering education topic. Please note that this year's theme for the ASEE Annual Conference is "We're celebrating 125 years of ASEE in SLC." We encourage you to share your experiences and ideas as part of our milestone year.

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:
- New teaching and learning strategies;
- Issues related to nontraditional and underrepresented student populations;
- Course and curriculum assessment and improvement;
- Laboratory development and innovation;
- Creative uses of technology in the classroom;
- Capstone/senior design and project-based curriculum;
- Undergraduate research and the integration of research and education;
- Novel approaches and methods for addressing ABET accreditation criteria;
- Teaching ECE topics to non-engineers and P12 students;
- Globalization of engineering education;
- service learning projects; and
- student recruitment, outreach, and retention.

Abstracts must contain a clear description of the objectives and motivation for the contribution to ECE education, relevant background including literature search examples if appropriate, a description of any assessment methods used to evaluate the effectiveness of the contribution, and a statement of results. Abstracts for works-in-progress (WIP) papers will be accepted for presentation in a poster session. WIP submissions must include WIP in the title. The review process is double-blind, so please omit names of authors and institutions in the abstract and draft of the paper. Abstracts/papers that are not anonymized will be returned without review. At the end of the abstract, indicate your preference for a regular or poster session presentation. Abstracts must be submitted through the ASEE website at https://www.asee.org/conferences-and-events/conferences/annual-conference/2018/papers-management/for-authors by the paper abstract deadline of October 16, 2017.

The ECE Division also invites proposals for workshops and special sessions.
- Tutorial Workshops – Presenters are encouraged to supplement workshop fees with grants and subsidies. The Program Chair reserves the right to cancel any accepted workshop that is likely to incur financial losses.
- Special Sessions – non-traditional format sessions such as panel discussions.

Proposals for special sessions and workshops must be E-mailed to the ECE Division Program Chair at steve.e.watkins@ieee.org by the paper abstract deadline of October 16, 2017.

The ECE Division Call for Papers can be found at the ASEE conference website under the "Papers Management" menu link:
