GMU'S YOUNG SCHOLARS PROGRAM

FELLOWSHIP OPPORTUNITY

The Naval Research Laboratory (NRL) Postdoctoral Fellowship Program is open to U.S. citizens and legal permanent residents and offers a competitive stipend as well as insurance, relocation, and travel allowances. This program offers one to three year postdoctoral fellowships designed to increase the involvement of scientists and engineers from academia and industry to scientific and technical areas of interest and relevance to the Navy. The program has a rolling admission. Go to: http://www.nrl.navy.mil/about/education/nd/life.html.

GMU'S YOUNG SCHOLARS PROGRAM

George Mason University's National Center for Technology & Law is encouraging applications from qualified candidates for its Young Scholars Program. Under this program, travel grants will be awarded to four young scientists/policy experts for a study trip to China. Successful candidates will participate in the U.S.-China Forum on Science & Technology Policy, October 16-17, 2006, in Beijing, and visit Chinese S&T institutions. Scholars will be selected on the basis of a nationwide competition. The deadline for receipt of applications and supporting letters of recommendation is June 1, 2006. Go to http://www.law.gmu.edu/nctl/stpp/us_china.php for a description of the Forum. Additional information can also be obtained from the GMU Science and Trade Policy Program.
